LEAD LEASE STEPPED UP FOR EUROPE ASSAULT

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Lead-lease arms and equipment to power a 100,000-man invasion army at Europe are moving out of this country at a steadily growing speed, President Roosevelt said today.

The report shows $25,250,000 worth of equipment, services and supplies have been shipped from this country's lead-lease program since last year, three-fourths to Britain and Russia and much of it in great quantities being massed before the Nazi front.

More than a $100,000,000 in planes and parts, a like amount of guns and ammunition and almost that value in tanks and war vehicles have gone to the United Kingdom—three-fourths to Britain and one-fourth to Russia—since last year, British bombers are dumping American-made charges on Germany and American fighters are sweeping up from the decks of British carriers.

In the first 60 days of 1944, the report shows, more than 2,100 lead-lease planes, 2,000 tanks and over 60,000 other military vehicles were sent to our allies, the bulk of them to Britain.

The report showed a mounting total of reserve lead-lease.

In the Pacific and far east, lead-lease planes are being sent to the front against Japan. The report says the number of planes flying the air supply route from northeastern India into China.

CORONER LEAVING; GOES INTO ARMY

Dr. Clarence H. Schilt, Twin Falls coroner, has been given a commission in the U. S. army, and will report to Carlisle Barracks, Penn., today.

Lieutenant Schilt said he will submit his resignation as coroner to the board of health in Twin Falls, Idaho, and will accept his commission in the army.

Sure It Snowed; Nothing Unusual

A brief snow flurry Monday morning, barely enough to wet downtown sidewalks, brought a quick check of records which disclosed that it may be likely to be a snowfall—and it may snow next month.

It has snowed in May or later in 11 years since 1890, according to records kept at the U. S. bureau of entomology and plant quarantine in Washington.

In 1910, 1922, 1923 and 1942.

But 1927 had two inches of an inch of snow in May, and in 1937, 1937 had three inches, and in 1942, it was a six-inch snow in May of 1924.

Mistrial Denied In Sedition Case

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Justice Edward G. Clegg overruled today all defense motions for a mistrial in the case of the sedition spy case which moved into its second week.

Attorneys for several of the 20 defendants had contended the opening statement of the government was inflammatory and designed to "poison the minds of the jury."

The judge said the government's opening statement was "inflammatory and designed to poison the minds of the jury."

FOE SEEKS NEWS OF ATTACK PLAN

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—The German newspaper extended the scope of their reconnaissance raids on Britain during the night, sending "spies" planes over both the northern and southern coasts. In quest of clues to the imminent invasion of an allied invasion of western Europe.

The Nazi pilots betrayed that reconnaissance was the main purpose of their flights by dropping bombs at only one place—Kil, where some enemy planes, but no German fighters, were reported over other sections of the southern coast.

ARMADA REPORTED OFF ENGLAND

German broadcasts repeatedly have reported that the allies were massing troops and ships in the harbors of Southern England for a thrust across the English channel.

While neutral news agencies relayed reports of German concern over the possibility of an attack across the North Sea from Scotland on Norway, Denmark or perhaps Germany itself.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 22 (UP)—The Nazi command has thrown into battle its last reserves south of Rome and, by pouring reinforcements into the coastal sector, has thrown the American vanguard back two to three miles from Terracina, it was announced today.

Marshall Albert Kesselring turned on the allies with everything he had what appeared to be the show-down battle of southern Italy.

The concentration of German forces produced the first allied setback of the 11-day offensive when the Americans were pushed back from Terracina, coastal anchor of the enemy line, after advance patrols attempted to enter the strategic town this morning.

DIVORCE CONTEST OPENS IN COURT

The contested divorce suit of Anton P. Murgel vs. Mary Murgel, involving claim to a divorce from Twin Falls county and the custody of their three children, was opened for trial today in district court before Judge W. P. Foster.

Mrs. Murgel alleges separation since 1941 and contends that her three children (four named in suit) are in custody of her. The couple married Sept. 10, 1937, in Kearney, Neb. and are the parents of seven children.

Murgel is represented by E. L. White, and Mrs. Murgel by J. H. White. The hearing was continued this afternoon.

A second civil case, also a contested divorce suit, was heard by Judge Foster today. The case is between Pauline Maza vs. Cecil J. Maza, who is represented by J. H. White. Mrs. Maza alleges non-support and custody of two daughters, four and six years old. She has asked $50 monthly for temporary support and $25 monthly alimony.

Mrs. Maza also alleges adultery and desertion and non-support. She has asked for $75 weekly for support of the children and $45 alimony a year. The couple married Oct. 6, 1936, in Alaska.

Auto Hits Truck; Girl, 16, Bruised

Literature and bruise of the face and a slight case of shock were suffered by a 16-year-old girl, Mary Maza, today morning, when the 1934 Buick sedan with which she was riding, collided with a pickup truck on the highway near the intersection of Main and 1st streets.

The girl was riding in the front seat of the Buick. The truck was driven by Ted Sawyer.

From the top of the coupe, which was heading south along Main avenue, the Buick was struck by the rear bumper and tailgate of the pickup when it was making a left turn. The Buick was thrown into the air and landed on its side. The girl was thrown from the car and landed on the ground. She was taken to the hospital and released later in the day.

The pickup truck was driven by a man named Barnes, which occurred last Saturday at the intersection of Main and 1st streets. Herby arm was injured. Minor damages were settled immediately between the two parties.

Prohibition Plea Debate Postponed

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Congressional prohibitionists got a setback today as a house subcommittee postponed scheduled hearings on a written report and bill and an informal pool of committee members asked at least half of them to abstain.

Chairman Hobbs, D. Ala., said no date has been set for further hearings on the prohibition bill introduced by Rep. Byrd, D. Mo., and "all I can say is that there won't be any hearings anytime soon."

Byrd's office had no explanation for the postponement, but the Washington Post said the postponement was due to the fact that the committee members were busy with other matters.

Striking Miners Go Back to Work

MONTPELIER, May 22 (AP)—A three-day strike in the Bitumens mines of the Ancondo Copper Mining company here ended Saturday when a shift of workers returned to the shaft to continue the production of the vital copper.

The strike ended when the 200 workers and the Butte Miners union agreed to accept the recommendations of the arbitration board for the resumption of work. The miners had been on strike for three days, demanding a 10 percent wage increase and a 40-hour work week.

SOLON SEES FDP AS "SURE THING"

MINNEAPOLIS, May 22 (AP)—Sen. James E. Murray, D. Minn., believes that President Roosevelt is a "sure thing" for a fourth term if Gov. Thomas E. Dewey becomes a Republican presidential candidate.

Mr. Dewey is nominated by the Republicans at their national convention next month, as seems likely. He will discover during the campaign that he has many weaknesses, not apparent now, Murray said.

Murray, who stopped here as a guest of Walter M. Ritter, president of the National Tuberculosis Association, said he was "quite pleased" if the Republicans name Dewey as their presidential standard bearer.

Burley Chinese Boy Praised By U. S. Chief for Seal Sale

BURLEY, May 22—Last December, a Chinese boy named Harry Fong, 10, sold 100 worth of Christmas seals for the U. S. Navy. He was praised by the U. S. Chief for Seal Sale.

From this organization he received a grateful letter, which stated that this $100 would buy 100 worth of China relief. Edmund is a sixth grader at Miller school.

The letter reads as follows: Master Edmund Fong, Miller School, Burley, Idaho. Dear Edmund:

Miss Goodwin, the executive secretary of our affiliated association, the Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis Association, has written me personally about the cooperation you extended in the last Christmas seal sale. She also was good enough to send me the newspaper clipping showing your picture in the Christmas seal poster.

I want you to know how much we at the national office appreciate the fine spirit which prompted you to participate so actively in the Christmas seal sale.

Doublets you are aware that tuberculosis is a serious problem among the native people in China. We and many of your people now know that there are ways to find tuberculosis early so that it can be cured. A great deal of the progress in the finding and curing of tuberculosis in the U. S. is due to the work that you have been financed by the Christmas seal sale since 1907.

Just a day or so ago I had the pleasure of meeting Dr. S. C. Wu who is studying the treatment of tuberculosis here for a year or so. He can return to his work in China. He has prepared an excellent plan for tuberculosis control in China and will devote his life to it.

I want you to be one of the first to see the 1944 seal which I have attached to this letter. Please accept my good wishes for your future and my hope that you will continue to be interested in the Christmas seal sale. Faithfully yours, General Edmund Emerson, U. S. National Director.

BUREAUCRATIC QUIZ KIDS

Do you have a small group of close friends? If you do, and if you happen to live on a government-reclaimed farm in central Idaho, the bureau of agricultural economists people want to know about it. They would also like a list of the families with whom you visited regularly last year, and the names of your mutual friends.

They are curious, too, about the size of your 1943 income, whether the interior of your home is clean or dirty, and a lot of other gossamer-like subjects. Such things would once considered nobody's business but your own. That, however, was before the busy bureaucrats started playing quiz kids, and the federal special investigators armed with questionnaires.

The disclosure of these questionnaires brightened an otherwise arid discussion of irrigation by a senate subcommittee in Washington the other day. One of the agricultural economics field representatives explained how come. The purpose, he said, was to investigate the government's possible action against communities built around reclamation projects and to get an idea what to expect in future developments of the same sort.

Well, you ask, why go to the trouble of being informed of things going to keep gossip-like dossiers on your finances, friends, and church and organization membership (that's in the questionnaire, too)? Do you have to pay to have your private life of government-reclaimed land claimed land? Is your wife's housekeeping a matter of legitimate government concern?

Before the prospect scares you to death, let us state that the government is not so alarming as it appears. The chief trouble simply seems to be the old complaint—too many people on the government payroll.

It is extremely unwise, Mr. Wickard or Mr. Ickes or any other official gives two whoops about how many times a California farmer attends church, or if his wife ever shook under the table.

But that doesn't really matter to the busy little people who collect facts as others collect cattle covers, and with a little purpose. It's the relative figures, business, pastimes, and haven't much else to do, it helps them feel important, maybe wins them a promotion.

So the gossip-like dossier on the California farmers with a prober wind up in Washington's commodious archives building, or in the paper salvage drive. Mr. Ickes won't interfere with your choice of Saturday night beach partners. The busy little people will dream of your private life and your taxes.

And the taxpayer will keep right on paying taxes.

HERE'S A REAL PROJECT

The Southern Idaho Fish and Game association has a project that will be of use to one of its major projects the promotion of juvenile fishing.

In setting aside and stocking Slaughter House creek with several thousand trout for the exclusive use of boys and girls under ten years of age, the association is doing just the sort of thing that will most effectively counteract the growing problem of juvenile delinquency.

Although it's something new to this vicinity, the idea has been tried out with remarkable success in various parts of the country. Youngsters literally flocked to the ponds and small lakes restricted to children. As a result of game associations and municipalities working conscientiously to keep these Schlarfs away from the ponds, the fish and game anglers can catch, the sport has proved one of the most popular pastimes for children in this locality.

Those in Twin Falls should appreciate what the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association is doing for these youngsters, and every adult fisherman should give this project his heart-felt support.

Financial help to afford boys and girls the kind of wholesome recreation they need.

ROUGH IDEA

Official estimate of the destruction caused by the regrettable American bombing of Dresden, Germany, placed the damage at $8,500,000. That is, the dollar loss resulting from an accidental bombing by a relatively small force.

As an exercise in astronomical arithmetic, the figure of $8,500,000 upon thousands of tons of bombs dropped on Berlin and other Nazi industrial and transportation centers by repeated thousand-plane raids. Try to translate that into dollars.

Then ask yourself if you still question the effectiveness of aerial warfare.

DUCK YOUR HEAD

In Buffalo a helicopter was flown indoors during a duck hunt. We've been asked ourselves why ever since. Is this perilous parade to be part of our postwar life? If so, we hereby close the windows, crawl under the bed, and pray for the status quo.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL MAGAZINE

CRITICISM—Douglas MacArthur's belated announcement of his withdrawal from the race for the Republican presidential nomination was not entirely voluntary. It was forced by his supporters in Washington on the theory that even his unopposed candidacy constituted an endorsement of him and to the administration in the context of war.

It was not the publication of his somewhat indolent letter to Republican Miller of Nebraska which caused the showdown between the war department and the hero of Bataan.

The general's statement that he did not "cover" political matters was requested after the editors of Harper's magazine assured Henry H. Blumstein for refusing to permit publication of a critical article about MacArthur. The editorial highlighted a viewpoint which had not been heard from the man who is managing the war.

SEVERAL IT is understood that no better of re-examination marked the exclusion of MacArthur from the magazine. The exclusion was from the magazine. The exclusion was from the magazine. The exclusion was from the magazine.

It is not known whether it was President Roosevelt, Secretary Stimson or Gen. H. H. Arnold who took the initiative in urging MacArthur's retirement. It is generally believed that the chief of staff rejected the suggestion with the approval of the commander in chief and the secretary of war.

DICTATORS—The final act in the MacArthur-Britannica drama began when the magazine accepted a contribution written by an unnamed correspondent. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

Harper's questioned the accuracy of this statement. The magazine was published in the magazine. The magazine was published in the magazine. The magazine was published in the magazine.

It was based on the fact that the article contained, along with some praise, considerable criticism of the general, and the contention that he was written in a manner which was not in the interest of the general. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

The editors then pointed out that "as we go to press, General MacArthur has not declined the nomination for the presidency of the United States, and we are not publishing the article." The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

Because of this screen of official propriety, which has been appearing are incomplete, biased or incorrect, and therefore, politically unreliable. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

It quickly became obvious to the war department that if MacArthur remained in the race, even as a delegate to the Democratic convention, he would be a danger to the government. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

Such discussions might easily undermine his army and the world's confidence in him at a time when he was being called upon to lead the army. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

WORRIED—It is Minnesota has an exceptionally able delegation in capital hill, but in some respects this year's session is not so promising. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine. The article was published in the magazine.

But the chief trouble simply seems to be the old complaint—too many people on the government payroll.

GENERAL UNHURT IN 'BOOBY' BLAST

ON THE FIFTH ARMY FRONT in the Pacific, May 22 (AP)—Mark W. Clark, fifth army commander, narrowly missed being killed when a well-timed explosion from an abandoned German aircraft left from the jeep in which he was riding yesterday.

Clark, critically wounded one soldier and injured several others who had been standing near the Nazi anti-tank gun. Clark, who was making an inspection tour of the front, was taken to the rear where he was being treated by the medical staff.

After satisfying himself that the injured men were being treated, Clark returned to his jeep, where some of whom had been knocked down by the blast—against a tank—was waiting to take him to the rear.

Be First to Aid Red Cross, This Soldier Writes

"Before I forget it, I always want you to be one of the first to donate to the Red Cross when they ask for help," the request was written by a soldier in the 101st Airborne Division, who was on assignment. He can't name his unit.

The soldier is Staff Sgt. Eugene Davis, who sailed recently from New York for the unloading of supplies. His letter, in which he praised the Red Cross, was sent to his wife by his mother, Mrs. Jane Davis, 428 Second avenue north, New York.

Clark, who is at the front, is a high school senior. He is a member of the Red Cross, and is doing so in the states for emergency relief. He is a member of the Red Cross, and is doing so in the states for emergency relief.

GRANDMOTHER'S BOND WITH THE FUTURE -WAR BONDS

..for your grandchildren,
the best in the world!

ORDINARILY, age brings certain privileges. One of the greatest of them, perhaps, is that of watching, from the sidelines, the growth and progress of our nation's families.

Certainly one of the rewards of being a mother is becoming a grandmother—able to enjoy our sons' and daughters' children to the full, while leaving the responsibility for them in other hands.

The war, which has changed so many things, has changed this too. When the war took our sons—when it broke up our children's homes—it gave back to America's grandmothers responsibilities which we had passed on long ago. The privilege of growing older quietly has been denied the women of our generation while this war lasts.

For today, our grandchildren need our help. And it is in our power to give them greater help, perhaps, than any grandparents ever gave before.

We can give this help by buying War Bonds and Stamps—for our children's children. And no other single thing that we can do will help so much, or in so many different ways.

Every dollar put into War Bonds now does many all-important jobs today—and will do many more in the future.

War Bonds can help to bring fighting fathers back to their families next year—as soon as possible. War Bonds can provide those families now with aid in case of illness or emergency. War Bonds can help assure an education for a boy whose father comes back crippled—or does not come back at all. War Bonds can help to guarantee a busy, prosperous America for our sons when they return—an America in which our grandsons can find all the opportunities they need to lead the fullest, happiest lives in all the world.

The Grandmothers' War Bond League is simply a way of recognizing and uniting the millions of American grandmothers who are today buying War Bonds and Stamps for their grandchildren. Every one who buys a Bond or Stamp in a grandchild's name automatically becomes a member.

Join the Grandmothers' War Bond League today!

The Grandmothers' League was founded by Mrs. George C. Marshall, wife of the Army Chief of Staff. It is not a formal club. It is simply a roll of honor which grandmothers automatically belong to when they buy bonds, or start stamp albums, for their grandchildren. Mrs. Marshall urges every grandmother in America to help the fighting men today... and their children tomorrow, by joining the Grandmothers' War Bond League.

WAR BONDS to Have and to Hold
